¹ The Krasnoyarsk Territory is situated in the East Siberian region of Russia, in the very center of the Eurasian continent. Its total area is 2.34 million square kilometers or 13.6% of the territory of Russia. The Krasnoyarsk Territory was established as an independent administrative unit of Russia in 1822 as the Yenisei Province. The city of Krasnoyarsk founded in 1628, became the administrative center of the province. In 1934 the Yenisei Province was reorganized into the Krasnoyarsk Territory. Today the Territory is an independent member of the Russian Federation whose legal status is established by the Constitution of Russia and the Charter of the Krasnoyarsk Territory adopted by the Territorial Legislature in February 1996. More than 3 million people live in the Krasnoyarsk Territory, this is 2% of Russia's total population. The average population density is four times lower than Russia as a whole at 1.3 people per square kilometer. Approximately 85% of the population live in two relatively small regions - in the south of the Minusinsk Depression and along the Trans Siberian Railroad. Another 6.7% of the Territory's population lives in the Norilsk area. The urban areas of the Territory make up 74% of the total population, including 42.2% that live in four cities of the Territory - Krasnoyarsk, Norilsk, Achinsk and Kansk - with more than 100 thousand people in each. The largest city is Krasnoyarsk where more than 900 thousand people live. The Territory's largest city, Krasnoyarsk, is its capital and the administrative center.

Explanations

- <1> A variable (and reference) number have been assigned to each item in the study. In the present codebook which documents the archived data set, these numbers are identical. Should the data set be subsetting or rearranged the variable numbers might change to reflect the order of the new data set while the reference numbers would remain unchanged to provide a link to the archived data set.
- <2> Indicates the abbreviated (24 character maximum) variable label used within OSIRIS or SPSS system files.
- <3> "Location" indicates the starting position of the variable when the data set is stored in the OSIRIS format. "Width" describes the number of positions of the variable.
- <4> "MD" indicates the designation of the missing data. MD1 indicates an explicit defined single value. MD2 designates a single value or a value range, i.e. all values equal or greater than this value have been declared missing. Although these categories are defined as missing data categories, this does not mean that the user should not or cannot use these codes if desired.
- <5> Indicates the full question text taken from the British questionnaire. Wherever possible the original sequence of questions has been retained, although some changes were necessary to integrate the different national questionnaires.
- <6> Indicates commentaries and explanations added during the processing of the study. Within question or answer texts may indicate whether the questionnaire in a particular country is deviating from the general format.
- <7> Indicates the code value for the single answer category.
- <8> Indicates the textual definition of the codes. Abbreviations commonly used are DK (don't know), NA (no answer), Can't choose, Not applicable and Not available.
- <9> The absolute frequencies refer to the number of cases in the unweighted dataset.
- <10> The relative frequencies refer to the unweighted total number of cases.
- <11> The relative frequencies refer to the valid cases, i.e., the unweighted total number of cases reduced by the number of cases defined as missing data.
- <12> Indicates percentaged frequencies by country. This form is used whenever code categories have the same meaning for all countries. Column percentages are based only on "valid cases". Missing data values were excluded from percentages.
